PURPOSE

This policy will provide guidelines:

- for the collection, storage, use, disclosure and disposal of personal information, including photos, videos and health information at Craig Family Centre Inc. (CFC).
- to ensure compliance with privacy legislation.
- on responding to requests for information to promote child wellbeing or safety and/or assess and manage risk of family violence (mandatory).
- on sharing and requesting information to promote child wellbeing or safety and/or manage risk of family violence.

POLICY STATEMENT

1. VALUES

CFC is committed to:

- responsible and secure collection and handling of personal information.
- protecting the privacy of each individual's personal information.
- ensuring individuals are fully informed regarding the collection, storage, use, disclosure and disposal of their personal information, and their access to that information.
- proactively sharing information to promote the wellbeing and/or safety of a child or a group of children, consistent with their best interests

2. SCOPE

This policy applies to the approved provider, persons with management or control, nominated supervisors, persons in day-to-day charge, early childhood teachers, educators, and all CFC employees, members, contractors, students on placement, children and other service recipients, parents/guardians/carers, volunteers, visitors and others attending the programs and activities of Craig Family Centre, including during offsite excursions and activities.

3. BACKGROUND

Background:

Early childhood services are obligated by law, service agreements and licensing requirements to comply with the privacy and health records legislation when collecting personal and health information about individuals.

The Victorian Information Privacy Principles (IPPs) are based on the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development's (OECD) Guidelines on the Protection of Privacy and Transborder Flows of Personal Data

PRIVACY AND CONFIDENTIALITY POLICY

(1980; updated 2013). The 10 IPPs are the core of privacy law in Victoria and set out the minimum standard for how Victorian public sector bodies should manage personal information. The IPPs are contained in Schedule 1 of the Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014. Under the terms of CFC government funding agreements, CFC is contractually required to comply with the Information Privacy Principles.

The Health Records Act 2001 (Part 1, 7.1) and the Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014 (Vic) (Part 1, 6 (1)) include a clause that overrides the requirements of these Acts if they conflict with other Acts or Regulations already in place. For example, if there is a requirement under the Education and Care Services National Law Act 2010 or the Education and Care Services National Regulations 2011 that is inconsistent with the requirements of the privacy legislation, services are required to abide by the Education and Care Services National Law Act 2010 and the Education and Care Services National Regulations 2011.

In line with the Victorian Government's Roadmap for Reform, Education State reforms and broader child safety initiatives, Part 6A of the Child Wellbeing and Safety Act 2005 (the Act) was proclaimed in September 2018. The Act established the Child Information Sharing (CIS) Scheme, which enables sharing of confidential information between prescribed entities in a timely and effective manner in order to promote the wellbeing and safety of children. The Act also authorised the development of a web-based platform that will display factual information about children's participation in services known as the Child Link Register (to become operational by December 2021). The Child Link Register aims to improve child wellbeing and safety outcomes, monitor and support the participation in government-funded programs and services for children in Victoria.

Alongside the CIS Scheme, the Family Violence Protection Act 2008 includes the Family Violence Information Sharing (FVIS) Scheme and the Family Violence Multi-Agency Risk Assessment and Management (MARAM) Framework, which enables information to be shared between prescribed entities to assess and manage family violence risk to children and adults. The MARAM Framework can be used by all services including ECEC services that come into contact with individuals and families experiencing family violence. The MARAM Framework aims to establish a system-wide shared understanding of family violence. It guides professionals across the continuum of service responses, across the range of presentations and spectrum of risk. It provides information and resources that professionals need to keep victim survivors safe, and to keep perpetrators in view and hold them accountable for their actions.

children from birth to 18 years of age are covered. Unborn children are only captured when there has been a report to Child First or Child Protection. Consent is not required from any person when sharing under CISS. The CISS does not affect reporting obligations created under other legislation, such as mandatory reporting obligations under the Children, Youth and Families Act 2005.

Child Safe Standards: Promotes the safety of children, prevent child abuse, and ensure organisations have effective processes in place to respond to and report all allegations of child abuse.

Confidential information: For the purposes of this policy; the CISS and FVISS, the health information and identifiers for the Health Records Act 2001 and the personal information for the Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014, including sensitive information (such as a criminal record), and unique identifiers.

Data breach: Unauthorised access or disclosure of personal information, or loss of personal information.

Discloser: In the context of the Schemes, this is defined as sharing confidential information for the purpose of promoting the wellbeing or safety of a child or group of children. In the context of family violence, this is defined as when someone tells another person about violence that they have experienced, perpetrated or witnessed.

Family Violence Information Sharing Scheme (FVISS): enables the sharing of relevant information between authorised organisations to assess or manage risk of family violence.

Freedom of Information Act 1982: Legislation regarding access and correction of information requests.

Health information: Any information or an opinion about the physical, mental or psychological health or ability (at any time) of an individual.

Health Records Act 2001: State legislation that regulates the management and privacy of health information handled by public and private sector bodies in Victoria.

Information Sharing Entities (ISE): are authorised to share and request relevant information under the Child Information Sharing Scheme and the Family Violence Information Sharing Scheme (the Schemes) and required to respond to requests from other ISEs. All ISEs are mandated to respond to all requests for information.

Notifiable Data Breaches scheme (NDB): A Commonwealth scheme that ensures any organisation or agency covered by the Privacy Act 1988 notifies affected individuals and the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (OAIC) when a data breach is likely to result in serious harm to an individual whose personal information is involved.

Personal information: Recorded information (including images) or opinion, whether true or not, about a living individual whose identity can reasonably be ascertained.

Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014: State legislation that provides for responsible collection and handling of personal information in the Victorian public sector, including some organisations, such as early childhood services contracted to provide services for government. It provides remedies for interferences with the information privacy of an individual and establishes the Office of the Victorian Information Commissioner.

Privacy Act 1988: Commonwealth legislation that operates alongside state or territory Acts and makes provision for the collection, holding, use, correction, disclosure or transfer of personal information. The Privacy Amendment (Enhancing Privacy Protection) Act 2012 (Cth) introduced from 12 March 2014 has made extensive amendments to the Privacy Act 1988. Organisations with a turnover of $3 million per annum or more must comply with these regulations.

PRIVACY AND CONFIDENTIALITY POLICY

Risk Assessment Entity (RAE): Under FVISS, there is also a subset of specialist ISEs known as Risk Assessment Entities that are able to receive and request information for a family violence assessment purpose. RAEs have specialised skills and authorisation to conduct family violence risk assessment, examples can include but not limited to Victorian Police, child protection, family violence service and some Orange Door services.

PRIVACY AND CONFIDENTIALITY POLICY

Collection of still and moving images

- CFC staff will provide notice to clients (including children) and parents/guardians/carers when photos/video recordings are going to be taken at the service (refer to this policy and attachments).

- CFC staff respect an individual's (including a child's) choices about themselves (or their child) being photographed or videoed. Specifically, both the parent and the child need to give consent for still or moving images to be recorded. - Where consent is not given, including if:
 - parents/guardians request that their child's image is not to be taken, published or recorded,
 - a client (including a child) requests that their photo not be taken, this request will be documented and retained. All relevant staff and contractors will have the client identified to them and will be informed of this request so that the specific individual will not be photographed/recorded.
- When taking photographs/recordings, CFC staff will ensure appropriate consent has been received and will be mindful of:
 - the appropriate use of images of children
 - cultural sensitivities

Record keeping and privacy laws

Early childhood services must ensure that their processes for the collection, storage, use, disclosure and disposal of personal, sensitive and health information meet the requirements of the appropriate privacy legislation and the Health Records Act 2001.

The following are examples of records impacted by the privacy legislation:

- Enrolment records: Regulations 160, 161 and 162 of the Education and Care Services National Regulations 2011 detail the information that must be kept on a child's enrolment record, including personal details about the child and the child's family, parenting orders and medical conditions. This information is classified as personal, sensitive and health information (refer to Definitions) and must be stored securely and disposed of appropriately.
- Attendance records: Regulation 158 of the Education and Care Services National Regulations 2011 requires details of the date, child's full name, times of arrival and departure, and signature of the person delivering and collecting the child or the nominated supervisor/educator, to be recorded in an attendance record kept at the service. Contact details may be kept in a sealed envelope at the back of the attendance record or separate folder for evacuation/emergency purposes.
- Medication records and incident, injury, trauma and illness records: Regulations 87 and 92 of the Education and Care Services National Regulations 2011 require the approved provider of a service to maintain incident, injury, trauma and illness records, and medication records which contain personal and health information about the child.
- Handling and storage of information: Limited space can often be an issue in early childhood service environments, and both authorised employees and the approved provider need access to secure storage for personal and health information. Documents might be required to be stored off the service premises. Wherever confidential information is stored, it is important that it is not accessible to unauthorised staff or other persons. When confidential information is required to be taken off-site (e.g. on excursions, a list of children with medical conditions and contact numbers will be required), consideration must be given to how this is transported and stored securely.
- Electronic records: It is important that electronic records containing personal, sensitive or health information are stored in password protect folders or software platforms and can only be accessed by authorised personnel. Services need to incorporate risk management measures to ensure that passwords are recorded and stored in a secure folder at the service, and to limit access to the information only to other authorised persons. (refer to the Information Communication Technology Policy).
- Forms: Enrolment forms and any other forms used to collect personal or health information should have the service's Privacy Statement (refer to Attachment 4) attached.
- Collecting information for which there is no immediate use: A service should only collect the information it needs and for which it has a specific purpose. Services should not collect information that has no immediate use, even though it may be useful in the future.
- Retention of records:
 - records relating to an incident, illness, injury or trauma suffered by a child while at the service, until the child is aged 25 years
 - records relating to an incident, illness, injury or trauma suffered by a child that may have occurred following an incident while at the service, until the child is aged 25 years
 - records relating to the death of a child while at the service, until the end of 7 years after the death

PRIVACY AND CONFIDENTIALITY POLICY

- and other records relating to a child enrolled at the service, until the end of 3 years after the last day on which the child attended the service
- records relating to the approved provider, until the end of 3 years after the last date on which the approved provider records relating to a nominated supervisor or staff member of an education and care service, until the end of 3 years after the last date on which the nominated supervisor or staff member provided education at the service
- any other records, until the end of 3 years after the date on which the record was made.

Privacy principles in action

Many organisations have to comply with more than one set of privacy obligations listed below. For example, an organisation that has a contract with a Victorian government agency may need to comply with the Australian Privacy Principles [AAP] (Privacy Act, 1988) as well as the Information Privacy Principles [IPP] (Privacy and Data Protection Act, 2014), and the Health Privacy Principles [HPP] (Health Records Act, 2001).

The Australian Privacy Principles

The APPs are legal obligations under federal Privacy Laws. They apply to every Australian organisation and federal government agency that meets the qualifying criteria below:

- it has an annual turnover of more than $3 million
- it provides a health service (which is broadly defined) to a person (even if the organisation's primary activity is not providing that health service)
- it trades in personal information (for example, buying or selling a mailing list)
- it is a contracted service provider under a Commonwealth contract (for example, an aged care provider or a disability services provider under a Commonwealth agreement)
- it is a credit reporting body
- it operates a residential tenancy database
- it is a reporting entity for the purposes of the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (Cth) (AML/CTF Act)
- it is an employee association registered or recognised under the Fair Work (Registered Organisations) Act 2009 (Cth)
- it is a business that conducts protection action ballots
- it is a business prescribed by the Privacy Regulation 2013
- it is related to a body corporate (for example, a subsidiary) that meets any of the above criteria (even if your not-for-profit itself does not), or
- it has opted into the Privacy Act (choosing to comply, despite not meeting any of the above criteria)

The Information Privacy Principles

- The IPPs are relevant for all Victorian public sector organisations, as well as some private or community sector organisations, where those organisations are carrying out functions under a State contract with a Victorian public sector organisation.
- A State contract means a contract between an organisation (e.g. the Department of Education and Training) and a Contracted Service Provider [CSP] (e.g. an Approved Provider) under which services are provided by the CSP for the organisation (e.g. a funded Kindergarten Program).

The Health Privacy Principles

- Victoria has specific Health Privacy Laws that provide a higher standard of protection of certain health information. Early Childhood Education and Care services collect, hold and use health information, therefore are required to follow the HPP under the Health Records Act 2001.

Principles in Action

- Organisations need to make sure their policy and procedures are consistent with all the Privacy Laws that apply to their organisation. If you're not sure, you should get legal advice.
- The Child Information Sharing Scheme and Family Violence Information Sharing Scheme makes certain modifications to the Information Privacy Principles and the Health Privacy Principles to ensure that the scheme is able to operate as intended.
- The table below is a reference tool that identifies how all three legislations can work together and what it may look like in practice.

Some staff may use learning journals or curriculum documentation in which photographs are included, which may be displayed onsite and/or emailed and/or given in paper form to families in the group.

When the photographs/videos are no longer being used, CFC will destroy them if they are no longer required, or otherwise store them securely at the service. It is important to note that while the service can nominate the use and disposal of photographs they organise, CFC has no control over those photographs taken by parents/guardians/carers of children attending the service program or activity.

Group photographs/videos taken by parents/guardians/carers

Parents/guardians/carers may take group photographs/videos of their own child/children at special service events such as birthdays, concerts, excursions and other activities. Parents/guardians/carers must ensure that where the photographs/videos include other children and/or clients at the service they are sensitive to and respectful of the privacy of those clients and families in using and disposing of the photographs/videos.

Photographs taken by a photographer engaged by CFC

A photographer may be engaged by CFC to take individual and/or group photographs of children and/or other clients. Information will be provided in written form prior to the event and will include the date and the photographer's details.

Photographs/videos for use in newspapers, CFC website and other external publications

The permission will, on every occasion, be obtained prior to a client's photograph being taken to appear in any newspaper/media or external publication, CFC publications, social media, and website.

Photographs/videos taken by students on placement

Students at the service may take photographs/videos of clients as part of their placement requirements.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people

Sharing information under the CISS AND FVISS

This attachment has been developed based on the Information Sharing and Family Violence Reforms Contextualised Guidance: For centre-based education and care services; government, Catholic and independent schools; system and statutory bodies; and education health, wellbeing and inclusion workforces, April 2021.

Applying the threshold test

Before sharing information with other Information Sharing Entities (ISE)'s the threshold test requirements must be met.

The requirements for sharing are different depending on the purpose of the sharing, if sharing for both purposes (Child Wellbeing or Safety and/or Family Violence), you must meet the requirements of each of the schemes.

Although child wellbeing and safety takes precedence over an individual's privacy, privacy must still be protected through careful and selective information sharing.

Threshold requirements for the Child Information Sharing Scheme:

1	The information sharing entity is requesting or disclosing confidential information about any person for the purpose of promoting the wellbeing or safety of a child or group of children; and
2	The disclosing information sharing entity reasonably believes that sharing the confidential information may assist the receiving information sharing entity to carry out one or more of the following activities: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • make a decision, an assessment or a plan relating to a child or group of children • initiate or conduct an investigation relating to a child or group of children • provide a service relating to a child or group of children • manage any risk to a child or group of children; and
3	The information being disclosed or requested is not known to be 'excluded information' under Part 6A of the Child Wellbeing and Safety Act (and is not restricted from sharing by another law), information that could: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • endanger a person's life or result in physical injury • prejudice a police investigation or interfere with the enforcement or administration of the law; prejudice a coronial inquest; prejudice a fair trial of a person • be legally privileged • reveal a confidential police source • contravene a court order • be contrary to the public interest • information sharing would contravene another law.

Threshold requirements for the Family Violence Information Sharing Scheme:

1	The purpose of sharing is to assess family violence risk OR protect victim survivors from family violence risk. There are two purposes for which information can be shared between ISEs: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Family violence assessment purpose: the purpose of establishing or assessing the risk of a person committing family violence or being the subject of family violence. This would include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – establishing family violence risk – assessing the risk to the victim survivor – correctly identifying the perpetrator. • Family violence protection purpose: once family violence risk is established, to manage the risk to the victim survivor. This includes information sharing to support ongoing risk assessment.
2	The applicable consent requirements are met. Is the consent required when a child is at risk of family violence? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Consent is not required from any person to share information relevant to assessing or managing family violence risk to a child. However, you should seek the views of the child and non-violent family members where it is safe, reasonable and appropriate to do so. • Where a child is 18 years of age or older, they are an adult and so you may need their consent to share their information, or the information of third parties, unless you can legally share under existing privacy laws or when there is a child at risk. In situations where an adolescent is using family violence against an adult family member, you may need the consent of the adult victim survivor to share their information.
3	The information is not excluded information. Excluded information is information that could: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • endanger a person's life or result in physical injury • prejudice a police investigation or interfere with the enforcement or administration of the law; prejudice a coronial inquest; prejudice a fair trial of a person be legally privileged • reveal a confidential police source • contravene a court order • be contrary to the public interest • information sharing would contravene another law.

Making a request to another Information Sharing Entity

Before disclosing information under the Child Information Sharing and Family Violence Information Sharing Scheme, it is important that information sharing entities take reasonable care to verify the identity of the professional or service and ensure that they are an information sharing entity.

- The ISE list is a searchable database that can be used to identify organisation and services prescribed under the CISS and FIVSS
- Before making a request, check to see if the organisation is a prescribed entity via the Access the ISE list: <https://iselist.www.vic.gov.au/ise/list/>
- Refer to Information Sharing Entity List Uses Guide on how to navigate the database.
- ISE's should respond to requests for information in a timely manner, including when they are declining to provide information in response to the request.
- If an ISE is declining a request from another ISE, they are required to provide written reasons for doing so.

Making a request or receiving a request under the Child Information Sharing Scheme

An ISE may request information when it meets the first and third parts of the threshold. That is, the information being requested is:

- to promote the wellbeing or safety of a child or group of children
- not excluded information under the Child Information Sharing Scheme to their knowledge.

ISE should use professional judgement to decide which organisation or service to request information from, taking into account the following:

- the activity the requesting information sharing entity is seeking to undertake and the type of information that may assist them
- the roles and responsibilities of other information sharing entities and the information they are likely to hold
- the currency and relevance of the information other information sharing entities are likely to hold.

The ISE requesting the information should provide sufficient detail to enable the responding ISE to make a decision about whether all three parts of the threshold have been met, in order to assist them to:

- identify relevant information to respond to the request
- form an opinion about whether the information may be disclosed under the CISS (whether the disclosure meets the threshold).

When making a request, an ISE may disclose any confidential information that may assist the responding ISE to:

- identify the information they hold that is relevant to the request
- form an opinion on whether the information may be disclosed under the scheme.

If the legal requirements (or threshold) of the scheme are met, an ISE:

- may make requests for information to another ISE
- must disclose relevant information to another ISE, if requested
- may disclose information voluntarily (proactively) to other ISE's

ISE's will use their expertise and exercise their professional judgement to identify:

- the range of needs and risks that impact on a child's life to inform a decision as to whether the threshold is met
- what and how much information to share
- who to share with to support improved service delivery and promote the wellbeing or safety of the child or children.

Making a request or receiving a request under the Family Violence Information Sharing Scheme

Under Part 5A of the Family Violence Protection Act 2008 (FVPA), ISEs may request or share information with other ISEs about a person that is relevant to assessing or managing a family violence risk. The information may relate to a victim survivor (adult or child), alleged perpetrator/perpetrator or third party.

Only information that is relevant to assessing or managing a risk of family violence can be shared under the Scheme. In determining what information is relevant, practitioners should use their professional judgement and refer to the Family Violence Policy.

Where an ISE receives a request, it must share that information, either verbally or in writing, provided that the information meets the requirements (the threshold) of the Scheme. The onus is on the ISE sharing information to ensure that they are disclosing information about a person in accordance with the law. There is no restriction on an ISE making a request.

If there is no existing relationship with the ISE the information is being requested from, verification may need to take place (e.g. by sending an email with the entity's official account).

There are two purposes for which ISEs can share information with each other under the FVPA, Part 5A:

a. for family violence assessment purposes

- Only prescribed risk assessment entities (RSE) (see Definitions) are entitled to make requests and receive information for a family violence assessment purpose, which focuses on identifying who the 'actual' perpetrator and victim survivor are and establishing the level of risk the perpetrator poses to the victim survivor.

OR

b. for family violence protection purposes

- Any prescribed ISE is permitted to request and receive information for a family violence protection purpose. The focus at this stage is about managing the risk of the perpetrator committing family violence or the victim survivor being subjected to family violence. This could include information sharing as part of ongoing risk assessment.

Once it has been established which purpose the information is to be exchanged, ensure that:

- sufficient information is provided to the ISE to help them identify what information they hold that might be relevant and whether they should disclose that information.
- the purpose of the information is clearly identified and why it is believed the information is relevant
- precedence is given to a victim survivor's right to be safe from family violence when discussing relevant information.
- record keeping is completed, including the name of the service that was contacted, the name of the ISE and the information that was disclosed.
- any risk assessment or safety plan are documented, as a result of the information sharing.
- information is used only for a purpose permitted by law.
- if information request is refused, record this refusal in writing and keep this refusal on file.

Sharing information for risk assessment

Once a reasonable belief has been established that family violence risk is present and the identity of the perpetrator or victim survivor/s are clear (e.g. the victim survivor has identified the perpetrator), this would enable any ISE to make referrals for specialist services or professionals to complete a comprehensive family violence risk assessment. Some of these specialist services are prescribed as Risk Assessment Entities (RAEs) (refer to Table 1).

ISEs can share relevant information proactively or on request with RAEs for risk assessment purposes. That is, in order to:

- confirm whether family violence is occurring
- enable RAEs to assess the level of risk the perpetrator poses to the victim survivor
- correctly identify the perpetrator who is using family violence.

Family violence risk assessment is an ongoing process and is required at different points in time from different service perspectives. Education and care services will have a role in working collaboratively with other services to contribute to ongoing risk assessment and management of family violence.

Figure 1: Overview of activities when sharing information for risk assessment

Victoria State Government, 2021. Information Sharing and Family Violence Reforms Contextualised Guidance. Melbourne, p.38.

ISEs can only share information with other ISEs that are not RAEs. Request information from RAEs once family violence risk is established and the identity of the perpetrator and victim survivors are known. This is to prevent sharing that might escalate risk to a child or family member.

Sharing for risk management (protection):

Once family violence is established, ISEs can share proactively with other ISEs and request information, including from RAEs, if they reasonably believe sharing is necessary to:

- remove, reduce or prevent family violence risk
- understand how risk is changing over time
- inform ongoing risk assessment.

This opens a two-way flow of information that enables ISEs to form a complete picture of risk and collaborate to support children and families experiencing family violence.

Figure 2: Overview of activities when sharing information for risk management (protection)

Victoria State Government, 2021. Information Sharing and Family Violence Reforms Contextualised Guidance. Melbourne, p.39.

When making a request, ensure you are speaking with someone suitably trained to use Part 5A of the Family Violence Protection Act 2008 (FVPA).

Record keeping

ISEs have specific record keeping obligations under the FVISS and the CISS. ISEs can choose how they will meet their record keeping obligations, which might include written or online case notes, specific record keeping forms or IT solutions, and are in line with the Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014 (Vic) and, where applicable, the Australia Privacy Principles obligations.

When an ISE receives a request to share information they must record:

- the ISE that requested the information
- the date of the request
- the information that was requested
- if refusing a request, the request and the reason why it was refused.

When an ISE shares information (either proactively or on request) they should:

- know and record what scheme they are sharing under (FVISS, CISS or both)
- know and record whom information is being shared about
- record how the threshold for sharing was met.
- relevant risk assessments or safety plans that have been prepared for a person at risk of family violence.

Documentation is also required if sharing about:

- adult victim survivors of family violence or third parties under FVISS (where a child is at risk)
- a child's parent under CISS
- child victim survivors of family violence
- any child in order to promote their wellbeing or safety.
- whether their views were sought about sharing their information
- if their views were not sought, record the reason why
- if they were informed that their information was shared
- whether information was shared with consent and whether the consent was written, verbal or implied
- if the information was shared without consent, record the reason why
- if the information was shared without consent, record if the person was informed that their information was shared without consent

Examples of record keeping forms can be found at: www.vic.gov.au/guides-templates-tools-for-information-sharing

Handling information sharing and risk assessment complaints under the CISS and FVISS

Types of complaints

ISEs may receive complaints from:

1. Individuals in relation to privacy breaches, for example the ISE has:
 - misidentified an adult victim survivor as a perpetrator and shared information about them without consent
 - shared information that is not relevant to the purpose for which it was shared.
2. Individuals in relation to any other conduct under the Schemes, for example the ISE has:
 - not sought the views of a child and/or relevant family member and the complainant believes it was reasonable, safe and appropriate to do so
 - in the view of the complainant, failed to foster positive relationships between a child and significant people in the child's life, in the way they applied the Schemes.
3. Other ISEs in relation to how the ISE is sharing information under the Schemes. For example, an ISE may make a complaint about:
 - another ISE refusing to share relevant information that should be shared
 - the timeliness of responses.

Complaints record keeping

The following information must be recorded if a complaint is received under the Schemes:

- date the complaint was made and received
- nature of the complaint
- action taken to resolve the complaint
- action taken to lessen or prevent the issue from recurring
- time taken to resolve the complaint
- if the complaint was not resolved, further action that was taken

Note: accepted standard practice is that a response should be provided within 30 days of receiving the complaint. All complaints must be handling according to the Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014 (Vic) and, where applicable, the Australia Privacy Principles
