

Jo Kitley is a Melbourne-based specialist Music teacher. She has been teaching Music to children in a variety of contexts for over 20 years including 10 years of classroom, choral and instrumental music at Xavier College.

Jo's love of music began when she attended group Music classes from the age of six. Jo's passion for music and inclusive music education has continued to grow and with it her commitment to lead others in the enjoyment of music.

In 2000, Jo obtained her Bachelor of Music (Honours), majoring in Clarinet performance. She continued to complete a Graduate Certificate of Education (Orff Music Education), Graduate Diploma of Education (Secondary Music), Master of Education (Special Education, Inclusion and Early Intervention) and a Diploma of Early Childhood Education and Care. Jo has also successfully completed course work in the Kodaly approach to music education.

Jo is especially passionate about individualised and inclusive Early Years Music education. In 2015, JoJo's Music for Kids was launched in which Jo designs and delivers Music programs to children.

Jo's music programs actively engages students in a fun atmosphere, which inspires students and involves parents. Jo is dedicated to catering for individual needs whilst providing a group Music experience.
